Federal financial aid regulations allow colleges and universities to include the purchase of a computer in the student's Cost of Attendance (COA). With the inclusion of the cost to purchase a personal computer, the student's total cost of attendance will increase. This increase may affect the loan eligibility of the student, possibly allowing the student to borrow a greater amount in subsidized, unsubsidized, parent PLUS or alternative loans.
Note: There is not a special loan to assist with the purchase of a computer.

The Office of Student Financial Assistance will adjust the student's cost of attendance to purchase a computer once while an undergraduate and once while a graduate student.

If you wish to have your cost of attendance increased, please complete the section below:

- ❑ Increase my COA by the maximum of $1,500.
- ❑ Increase my COA by the amount specified by my curriculum. (Attach a letter from the department, which lists the purchase price for the required computer and/or software.)

If you wish to be considered for additional loans, please indicate below:

- ❑ I request to be considered for only subsidized loans.
- ❑ I request to be considered for subsidized and unsubsidized loans.
- ❑ I request that my total loan award(s) not exceed $ _____.
  (If dollar amount is not specified, assume maximum eligibility.)

Note: If you have no remaining eligibility in the subsidized and unsubsidized loan programs, we will notify you of your parent PLUS or alternative loan eligibility.
