

CMS Enhancements

Web Editor Meeting

February 6, 2014

Neil Erdwien, Web Services Director
Division of Communications and Marketing

Web Editor Meetings

- First Thursday of every month
- Goal: make K-State's web presence better

Background

- Version 10
- Implement enhancements added in version 9

Calendar / Pulse

- DCM/ITS-developed system for sharing event information
- Feeds data to sidebar, main column, homepage, and digital displays

Binary Manager

- dichotomy between regular pages and binary files
- publish like any other
- workflow like any other

Dependency Manager

- Keeps track of all links within our sites
- When a page's URL changes, links are automatically updated
 - Across CMS sites

Quick Search

- Filename and content searches in the full file viewer
- Not very intrusive, so we'll just enable

Version 10

- Rewrite of the UI
- Announced March 2011, to be delivered fall 2012
- Actually delivered end of 2013

Version 10

- We have 6 months to switch
- All K-State must switch at once
- Day or two

New features

- IE 10 and IE 11 support

Drag and Drop

- Drag and drop upload
- Drag and drop file management
- File sidebar shows multiple levels

Dashboard

- Dashboard redesign
 - Required actions
 - Checked out content
 - Recent saves and publishes

More

- Gadgets
- JavaScript image editor
 - not Java
- Find and replace inside assets

Timing

- Spring term ends May 16
- Summer starts May 25? Or June 9?
- Orientation and Enrollment starts June 11
- May 29?

More information

- support.omniupdate.com

Questions

Final Word

- I sincerely hope that OmniUpdate won't prove to be a farceur of the Version 10 show.

Farceur

- Word of the Day, February 5, 2014

farceur \fahr-SUR\, noun:

1. a joker; wag.
2. a writer or director of or actor in farce.

